

Introduction to International and Global Studies

IGS 10a
SUMMER 2024

Instructor

Chandler Rosenberger
Office Hours: Thursdays, 11 am -12 noon
Email: crosen@brandeis.edu

Course Description

This course provides a systematic introduction to the interdisciplinary program in International and Global Studies (IGS). Although IGS 10a serves as the foundation course for an IGS major or minor, it is intended to be a general liberal arts course—of interest to anyone seeking a better understanding of the processes and problems of the contemporary world.

Course Outcomes

After taking this course, each student will be able to:

- Recognize the historical roots of contemporary globalization, especially the role of European imperialism and nationalism;
- Identify the connection between culture and political and economic institutions;
- Explain the role of major international financial and economic institutions and practices.

Prerequisites

- There are no prerequisites for the class.

Required Texts

I have assigned two books this term, both of which are available for purchase on sites such as Amazon.com. I have also posted many of the key chapters on our Latte page.

The books are:

Baylis, et al. The Globalization of World Politics (any edition after 5th is OK).

Lechner and Boli, The Globalization Reader. (5th edition or later)

You can use editions that are a little older than these, but some of the chapters may be numbered somewhat differently. Pay attention to chapter titles.

Other readings and videos will be on the course site.

Online Course Content

This course will be conducted partially online using Brandeis' LATTE site, available at <https://moodle2.brandeis.edu>. The site contains the course syllabus, assignments, discussion forums, and learning materials. Discussions and exercises will be held in person.

Course Policies and Procedures

Academic Integrity

Every member of the University community is expected to maintain the highest standards of academic integrity. A student shall not submit work that is falsified or is not the result of the student's own effort. Infringement of academic honesty by a student subjects that student to serious penalties, which may include failure on the assignment, failure in the course, suspension from the University or other sanctions (see section 20 of R&R). Please consult Brandeis University Rights and Responsibilities for all policies and procedures related to academic integrity. A student who is in doubt regarding standards of academic honesty as they apply to a specific course or assignment should consult the faculty member responsible for that course or assignment before submitting the work. Allegations of alleged academic dishonesty will be forwarded to the Department of Student Rights and Community Standards. Citation and research assistance can be found at Brandeis Library Guides - Citing Sources.

Student Support

Accommodations

Brandeis seeks to welcome and include all students. If you are a student who needs accommodations as outlined in an accommodations letter, I want to support you. In order to provide test accommodations, I need the letter more than 48 hours in advance. I want to provide your accommodations, but cannot do so retroactively. If you have questions about documenting a disability of requesting accommodations, please contact Student Accessibility Support \(SAS\) at 781.736.3470 or access@brandeis.edu.

Financial Barriers

If you are having difficulty purchasing course materials, please make an appointment with your Student Financial Services or Academic Services advisor to discuss possible funding options and/or textbook alternatives.

Research and Software Help

The Brandeis Library collections and staff offer resources and services to support Brandeis students, faculty and staff. These include workshops, consultations, collaboration, materials and instruction on emerging trends in technologies such as machine learning, emerging trends in research such as data visualization, and emerging trends in scholarship such as open access. Librarians at the Circulation Desk, Research Help Desk, Archives & Special Collections, Sound & Image Media Studios, MakerLab, AutomationLab, and Digital Scholarship Lab are available to help you.

Other Campus Resources

Brandeis University is committed to supporting all our students so they can thrive. The following resources are available to help with the many academic and non-academic factors that contribute to student success (finances, health, food supply, housing, mental health counseling, academic advising, physical and social activities, etc.). Please explore the many links on this Support at Brandeis page to find out more about the resources that Brandeis provides to help you and your classmates to achieve success.
